

Re: Legal Question for fansite

From: Brian Hoisko (bhoisko@tecmoinc.com)
To: fenrick@legendcup.com
Cc: mpfeiffer@tecmoinc.com; ttarpey@tecmoinc.com
Date: Thursday, April 24, 2003, 12:39 PM MDT

Taylor,

April 14th, 2003

This is an official statement from Tecmo, Inc.

Tecmo, Inc. gives Taylor Walker permission to use the images and sounds needed to create a fansite for the series of Monster Rancher (Legend Cup). Taylor must use these images in a respectful manner and not to degrade them in any fashion. If found doing so, Tecmo retains the right to revoke the privileges from Taylor. Any images and sounds used must have credit made to Tecmo in some fashion visibly on the site's main page.

Tecmo, Inc.
Brian Hoisko

----- Original Message -----

From: "Taylor Walker" <fenrick@legendcup.com>
To: <bhoisko@tecmoinc.com>; <mpfeiffer@tecmoinc.com>
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 7:41 AM
Subject: Legal Question for fansite

> Dear Brian, Melody or to whome it may concern,
>
> I have a request.
> May I receive another "permission" letter to be able to host a Monster > Rancher Fansite?
>
> Before I began the development of LegendCup.com I had requested > permission to start LegendCup as a Tecmo Fansite for Monster Rancher.
> At the time I had written to both Eggo and John Inada.
>
> I had received a letter of permission to host a Fansite for the Monster > rancher game and also had permission to use the images and sounds from > the Monster Rancher games freely as long as they were used with respect, > credit given to tecmo and a few other guidelines for the uses of Tecmo's > property.
>
> I cannot find the original or copy of this letter from John or Eggo that > allowed me permission to do this. Would either of you be able to have a > letter of permission to host a fansite for Tecmo's Monster Rancher.
> (this time I will not only keep the original e-mail / or real letter, > but I will also print it, and scan it for future records)
>
> let me know if you can, or cannot do this for me.
> Thank you so much!
>
>
> Taylor Walker
> LegendCup.com Owner and operator
> (fenrick@legendcup.com)
>